

---

Professionals attentive to the needs of the non-profit sector

The third sector is a field that is more important in the civil and economic life of Western countries.

At Studio Santececchi, non-profit associations and organizations can find professionals able to guide and support their requirements, from the drafting of their statute to the processes and the reporting techniques that respect the principles of transparency required from community funds.

Recent operations and updates