

---

Auditing comes from the need of the shareholders to verify that the details reported in the financial statements are corresponding to reality, and this must be done by an independent entity.

The professionals that work for Studio Associato Santececchi have the titles to check and certify the company's financial statements.