

Mergers aim at realizing synergies among enterprises, which before were independent, for example enhancing their competitiveness on the market; there are also other important motivations for mergers, for example increasing the company share capital to avoid entrance of other competitive shareholders. Behind the merger of two companies there is a long analysis process, an accounting, financial and fiscal due diligence which carefully needs to be taken care of.

Studio Associato Santececchi since years takes care of mergers on behalf of its clients.